

Comparison of growth habits of Salvia officinalis after approximately four months of varied slow release fertilizer treatments: 6 grams, 12 grams, and 24 grams of five different fertilizer sources. Under the 6 or 12 gram rate all plants display excellent growth habit; at 24 grams, fertilizer sources with a high nitrogen content (20 or 22 percent) show symptoms of burnout.